

Saving Youth Baseball Showcase

What:

The easiest way to bring the value of the “Saving Youth Baseball Video Presentation” to life, for the thousands of parents and players that have viewed it, is to simply play ball! Therefore, the Ted Williams League will be hosting games with all the adjustments talked about in the “Saving Youth Baseball Video Presentation” in place on the field. These on field games will be called the “Saving Youth Baseball Showcase”.

When:

As soon as it is safe to gather and resume activity on the field, clear from the Convid 19 Virus, the Ted Williams League will begin to host games at 4 different playing levels, these levels of play will span in age from 7-14.

There will be opportunities for anyone interested to play in these games on weekends, weekday nights and summer mornings starting on the date we deem safe to begin. We will play until Halloween.

Where:

Most games will be played in Hanson, Massachusetts but we also intend to provide information and assistance to groups interested in playing with these corrections and adjustments in place that are not in our geographical area.

Who:

As soon as it is safe to resume activity on the field, clear from the threat of Convid 19 Virus, the Ted Williams League will begin to host games at 4 different playing levels. These levels of play will span in age from 7-14. Below we have listed several different categories of parents, players and organizations which may be interested in participating and/or supporting our “Saving Youth Baseball Showcase.”

Please email us at: tedwilliamsleague@yahoo.com, make the email subject; “SYB Showcase” and tell us how you would like to participate. We will get back to you with additional information.
